

RECRUITING DAYS

BECOME AN EXHIBITOR

Make the most of your employer brand! Become an exhibitor at our job fair Recruiting Days.

Since 2008, our touring job fair bridges the gap between hospitality companies looking for skilled employees and job seekers eager to take on the next career challenge. On this one day, we give them the opportunity to connect in an informal, yet professional setting and discuss a possible collaboration.

Strengthen your employer brand

Image and reputation have become key to our talent acquisition strategies, which is why specialized job fairs are a good (pre-)recruiting tool that allows you to portray your company consistently and give insights into your work culture to the people most likely to share it.

Meet your target group

Young graduates, trainees or managers from the hospitality industry: our visitors have a wide range of profiles.

They are looking at a full day of coaching, workshops and of course networking! Their entry is free. Get to know them up close and personal.

How we attract the right visitors

We promote our Recruiting Days both online and offline across our partner network from the industry as well as to the schools and on all our job boards: this includes email, banner and social media marketing, print campaigns (flyers, posters and postcards).

By signing up, you cast a wider net and benefit from this visibility.

Customers' feedback

This is what our exhibitors say about the Recruiting Days:

"The applicants' feedback was just as good as their interest for our jobs on international cruise liners was high."

Ramon Amor, Managing Director, Jobonship Recruiting Agency, official staffing agency for Disney Cruise Line

"The Recruiting Days are a great place to meet qualified applicants, do some networking and present our company as an attractive employer. We are looking forward to the next time!"

Mathias Reim, Division Director, Block House Restaurantbetriebe AG

"The Recruiting Days' concept has convinced us. We have been to several cities: the environment was every time productive and we could gather many contacts and meet potential applicants. We will be there next year."

Sarah Sigloch, Senior of Quality & Training, Hospitality Alliance AG Deutschland

"This is the fun part of recruiting: lots of good interviews with qualified applicants in a high-end, professional setting."

Andreas Elvers, former Human Resources Director, Steigenberger Hotels AG
